JUNIOR WEEK PROGRAM PACKED FULL OF NEW FEATURES AND MANY EVENTS

Activities Begin Tomorrow With Tapping Of Waubanakee.

PROM TICKET SALES REACH HIGH NUMBER

Jamboree, Bridge and Dance Innovations Promise Much Fun.

Junior Week is here at last and every plan, scheme and dream will be a reality within the next three days. The committees in charge of the various activities have completed their final arrangements and everything is ready to meet the pleasure of the students and their guests. The opening event of the program will be the tapping of the new members of the Waubanakee, the highest honor that can be bestowed upon members of the men's college, and will take place on Porter Field at two o'clock, directly preceeding the baseball game with Vermont. This will be the second home game of the season and the first game of the state series and will no doubt be a very interesting contest.

After the Vermont-Middlebury baseball game, a Tea Dance will be held in the McCullough Gymnasium, to which the students, faculty and guests are invited. Music for dancing until six o'clock will be furnished by Fenderson's Quarto. Refreshments will be served through the courtesy of the class of 1930.

In the evening a Bridge and Dance is to be held in the Middlebury Inn, beginning at seven fifteen o'clock. The innovation of this event on the Junior Week program is looked upon with considerable interest and the outlook towards its success is extremely optimistic. Groups who wish to play pro-

HUMESTON ELECTED PRES. OF UNDERGRAD

Basketball Captain and Baseball Star Prominent in Activities.

Richard Joseph Humeston of Dover Plains, New York was elected President of the Undergraduate Association by the Men's College in McCullough Gymnasium last night with 120 votes on the second ballot. Mr. Humeston will assume his duties after Junior Week in Chapel.

Mr. Humeston is very well qualified for the high honor the men have bestowed upon him. He has played on the Varsity Basketball team three years and was recently elected captain of the 1930 quintet. He is a member of the Varsity Baseball team and was awarded his letter last year. He has been a member of the Dramatic Club, Band, and "M" Club for the past two years and is now President of the Junior Class, and a member of the Interfraternity Council, Athletic Council, and Curriculum Committee. He is a Sage and a member of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity.

First Presentation of Junior Play Tonight; Rehearsals Promise Delightful Production

The Junior Play Cast

The Junior Play "Not Herbert", one of the main features of Junior Week, is to be presented two evenings, the first being this evening and the second Saturday evening. The overture, to be rendered by an orchestra that has been engaged by the committee, will begin at eight o'clock and the first act of the play will start immediately after.

The sale of tickets has far exceeded expectations and there is little doubt that the house will be taxed to its full capacity on both evenings. The reservations seem to indicate that the attendance will be about equal at both presentations and the innovation of Wednesday evening's production is looked upon as a noted improvement over the past year's single production.

President Moody will be the guest of honor at the play on Wednesday evening and the Junior Prom Queen will be the guest of honor at the second performance. Two loving cups are to be presented Saturday evening during the intermission between the second and thrd acts. The Interfraternty Stunt cup will be presented to the fraternity winning the Stunt competition on Friday morning and it is expected that the Junior Queen will be the presentee.

Baseball With Vermont Tomorrow; Norwich Saturday.

MEET ST. LAWRENCE ON TRACK FRIDAY

Racquetmen to Test Mettle Against State Title Aspirants.

The Junior Week athletic program will open tomorrow afternoon at Porter Field with a baseball game against the Blue's most ancient rival, Vermont. The keen rivalry for supremacy in this sport, as in all others, and the fact that the State championship is partly at stake, will make for a good, hard fought battle. The same afternoon, the Vermont tennis team, winners of last fall's contest, will meet the wearers of the blue on the Hepburn courts.

Friday, the St. Lawrence track team invades Porter Field to meet the Blue squad. Last year Middlebury won an overwhelming victory at Canton, and the team is set to repeat. With the invincible "Gil" Smith in the sprints, the Goltry-Burrows combination in the quarter, Guarnaccia in the weights, Bagley and Williams, record holders in the high jump and pole vault respectively, keen competition is expected.

Norwich, winner of a close baseball series last year, will play the Blue nine on Porter Field Saturday.

Vermont on Thursday

The annual baseball game with Vermont which is one of the traditional Junior Week athletic events will take place Thursday afternoon. This year, the Panther has a better chance for victory than in the past few seasons. The Green and Gold lost practically an entire nine by graduation last June. The outlook for this year was anything but promising, but several freshmen have been unearthed and have been playing heads up baseball for the

DROP YOUR BOOKS AND PLAY.

At last it is here, the long planned and awaited Junior Week. Now that is here, what are we to do with it? Some of us are going to take everything in and others will say, "Oh, who wants to go to that affair?" These "sour grapes" are not slighting anyone but themselves. They miss the one chance during the year to be among the students, alumni and visitors enjoying themselves in common. Of course Junior Week is not what it used to be, but still is primarily a holiday for everyone's enjoyment.

There will be many visitors here and they will expect much. You can't blame them. If you were a guest somewhere, you too would look forward to many things, and if the greater part of these expectations were not fulfilled you would not have a good time. It's just as disagreeable to listen to preaching as it is to preach. A word to the wise is not necessary, but those who are "wise" should be careful not to do anything that would make the outsiders think less of Middlebury.

We can lay our books away for three or four days and feel that we are not slighting our studies. These days were made for fun, so why not have it? This paragraph is not propaganda against studying, but for "gosh sakes" don't pick these few days to grind at the books. Everyone will be in a spirit of "fun and frolic", no one will be able to escape it. Try and "pound away" at the books when there is so much going on about you.

There will be the impressive ceremony of the tapping of Waubanakee papooses, baseball games against our most ancient rivals, a track meet, the traditional rope pull, interfraternity stunts, the always delightful Junior Tea, the Junior Play, the new but promisingly enjoyable Jamboree and also the bridge and dance and then the king of events, the Junior Prom and the picking of the Prom Queen. You can't afford to miss all this fun.

What are the most enjoyable things you do in college? It certainly is not doing your lessons, although it does feel good to get an "A" now and then. But you can study for the rest of the term and Junior Week is here only for the next few days.

Sunday is Mother's Day and don't allow the hustle and bustle of Junior Week make you forget your mother.

We have a new Undergraduate President, and just because your man did not win is no reason for not supporting the one that won. He will work under difficulties. The new system will not be easy to get into working order without the cooperation of everyone.

With all of the rain and dreary weather we have had in the past three months, we should all be used to it by now, but evidently we are not. About two thirds of the students stayed in their dorms last Saturday instead of going to the baseball game, just because it looked like rain. To have less than half of the students in attendance at the opening home game of the season is not much inspiration for the team.

According to report, the undergraduates will soon receive a mead of censure and criticism from the townspeople. The trouble is, to repeat the old, old story, too much "whoopee" in the movie emporium. Monday last, the noise approached riotous proportions, and we have heard mutterings of it from all sides. The student body is advised to behave itself; at least so far as is possible during the season noted, as it is, for exuberant feeling.

COMMUNICATION

To The Editor of the Campus

Dear Sir:

I noticed with considerable interest the editorial comment in the last issue of the Campus relative to the passage of a new form of Student Government for the Men's College. I wonder, however, how much of an impression the whole thing has made on the student body. It is true, doubtless, that all appreciate the fact that a radical change has been made but I sometimes doubt if we really appreciate the advantages that it should offer and the use that may be made of it in the solving of Student problems.

The retiring officers and, as a matter of fact, the greater part of the retiring Senior Class, are well aware of the deficiencies that existed in the old form of Student Government and it has been their aim and purpose to erect a workable system that will meet the demands of a changing student situation. My only fear is that we will pass the thing on as a "job well done" and forget about it, paying no attention to its potentialities.

The men are to be congratulated, I feel, on rejecting a plan that would place the Fraternities in a dominant position and substituting in its stead a form of Government that aims at the proper representation of all of the interests that are vital to the College.

There are several aspects of the problem, however, that I fear are going to pass on unnoticed, perhaps not by the officers of the Government but by the Men's College as a whole.

In the first place we should not lose sight of the purpose for which the plan was adopted. There is no one in Middlebury, I am sure, who will doubt me when I say that there are organizations on our Campus that do little besides elect officers and sit for Kaleidoscope pictures. The plan was adopted, or shall I say framed, to relieve just such a situation as this. We have lacked a student group on our Campus that could check up every now and then and call for an accounting by these defunct bodies. I do not mean, of course, that this situation has been worked out wilfully; no one wants to be President of a "useless" club let alone belong to it.

The thing to do now is to try and put new life in them, to revitalize them and get them working along the lines that were originally planned for them. If we can set up a Student Council made up of well-informed and active students who realize that it is their job, and one that they must not slight, to see that these organizations lose no ground from year to year but rather that they increase in value, we cannot but gain in the end. This new Student Council must not assume its duties without considering this situation and resolving to investigate those interests that are not properly managed. Here is a challenge for the Student Council. Something for them to do. That is what they have lacked for some time.

Then there is the case of the activities only partially developed. Some of them are extremely valuable to the College and should be encouraged to widen their scope. It is this sort of organization that may be aided most by a "working" Student Council. Here, then, lies the second challenge to that new body. Inspect these "half-way measures" and set them on their feet.

Of course the Student Council cannot do all of this, the greater part lies in the hands of the Student body, in their willingness and ability to participate, but we shall never progress very far unless someone points out the way and calls our attention to the opportunities that lie ahead; that should be the duty of the Student Council.

There is something, then, for a Student Council to do besides supervise interclass athletics. They should concern themselves with the different phases of our College life and if we are not getting the most out of some to seek out the trouble and apply the remedy. This should be relatively easy for a Student Council made up of men who are actively engaged in extra-cirricular work for they should, above all else, appreciate the needs of the College and be able to work out some way to satisfy them.

Very sincerely yours,

Raymond J. Saulnier

WAMBA SAYS

What ho! A crowd, cheers, much confusion, what can it be? Another fire, murder or a Delta Tau initiation. Oh, its only Charlie Shaw stopping someone going by the new traffic signal.

Middlebury's "Fifth Avenue and 42nd St." at last is made safe for pedestrians. The traffic signal will not only serve to keep the traffic untangled and safeguard the jaywalkers, but will also be something to watch for the people who stand there holding the buildings up.

'Bet everybody going to the Prom thinks he's taking the Prom Queen.

Next week: "Who's that important looking fellow over there?" "Oh, he's the guy that took Miss Q to the Prom; she was made Junior Queen."

Did you ever know it to fail? Rain on the opening day of an athletic season.

Heard at the Upsala game: (Most probably said by co-eds) "Who's that funny looking man behind the catcher?" Other dumbell: "Oh, he puts up his two fingers when they lose a ball and then they give him another one."

Another prize: "That was no strike, why the batter didn't even move."

Upsala is not an Indian college.

Those who went to the movie last Friday night go gypped and those who missed the Orchestra-Choir concert got gypped; so syllogistically speaking (Kingsley), the whole student body got gypped. There were only a handfull (small hand) of students at the concert, although the presentation was well attended by those who know that "the best things in life are free."

See what the editor said about studying in his editorial. "Wish we could all have that attitude." Wonder if he ever studys?

The Kaleidoscope is out on time again this year. We know now why the Kaleidoscope board is just like a woman. They say something and mean something else.

Fanshaw, the sleuth from Not Herbert, is now trying to solve the mystery of the finding of the strange object about six feet long on the front porch of Tel. 256. Now it can't remain a mystery long, but it will still be six feet long.

The only reason the strange object was found there is because it was dead. It isn't dark enough there for the others.

Junior Play Promises Excellent Production

The loving cup offered by Kappa Delta Rho to the most prominent member of the Senior class of the men's college, will also be awarded at this time. Scholarship, athletics and other extra-curricular actvities are the basis for the award.

"Not Herbert" is a comedy-mystery presented in four acts and according to the producer, Mr. Samuel French, it is one of the greatest successes of the present season. V. Spencer Goodreds is directing the play and feels sure that the presentation will far exceed past productions. Special sets and designs have been arranged by H. S. King so that the scenery is expected to be far above the standard.

A dress rehearsal was held last evening and the result swept away all doubt of success from even the most pessimistic. All the players showed a marked dramatic ability, a founded confidence in themselves and a product of careful practise and coaching. Carl Howard, as "Herbert", displayed a playing talent that has only recently shown itself at the surface. His adaption to the part is strikingly remarkable and his change of voice for stage production is far above the average. Miss Guest, as Cynthia Alden, continues to follow her dramatic call and far exceeds her exceptional performance in past productions. Dramatic critics claim this play to be comparable, if not finer, than last year's production.

The cast is as follows:

Cynthia Alden	Alice Guest
Tracy Sutton	Wm. W. Wheatley
Herbert Alden	Carl Howard
Ruth Webster	Marie Comtois
Mrs. Alden	Elizabeth Parker
Mrs. Blaine	Dorothea Higgins
Polly	Marion Cruickshank
George	Robert M. Hathaway
Mr. Alden	Laurence H. Wilson
Mr. Fanshaw	Elbert Henry
Jim	Bert Nylen
Fletcher	Charles Stanley

JUNIOR WEEK BEGINS TOMORROW AT NOON

gressive bridge should arrange tables among themselves to avoid confusion at the Inn. Prizes will be awarded for both high and low scores of the evening's playing. The bridge games will continue until about eight-thirty, when Fenderson's quartet will favor the attendance with two hours of dance music. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Tickets for this event should be presented at the door and should be obtained in advance.

Friday's activities will be opened by the presentations of the fraternity stunts at the Opera House. These events wll begin at ten o'clock and probably will last well over two hours. A silver loving cup will be given to the fraternity having the best stunt. At two o'clock in the afternoon, the St. Lawrence track team will invade Porter Field against the Middlebury tracksters and the opinion is that plenty of thrills will be found in the strong competition. In the evening, at eight thirty o'clock, the Junior Promenade will be held at the Inn, arrangements having been made for the entire lower floor as dancing space and a lounge room.

Fraternity breakfasts will be served at the various fraternity houses on Saturday morning, beginning at nine o'clock as the first events of Saturday's program. At ten o'clock, the annual Soph-Frosh Rope Pull will take place at the gymnasium; this event being a part of the interclass competition. Following the Rope Pull, the students and their guests will meet at the Inn, from which they start on the Treasure Hunt that will end at the picnic grounds at Chipman Hill. The Jamboree has created great interest, as the event has a tendency to get the students in a group where they can enjoy themselves. Prizes will be located at the ends of two trails that are to be laid out in blue and white ribbons. At noon a lunch will be served by the members of the Y. W. C. A., at a place selected by the committee that will be near the end of the Treasure Hunt. Tickets for this event should be obtained in advance from members of the committee. At two o'clock the Vermont tennis team will meet the Middlebury team at the Hepburn Courts. At two thirty, the Norwich baseball team will make a bid for the athletic title at Porter Field in the last athletic contest of Junior Week.

In the evening, the Junior Play will be presented for the second time, the first appearance being Wednesday evening. "Not Herbert" is a play that can hardly be missed without feeling that something of importance in Junior Week has been lost. After the play, the Interfraternity Sing will be given on the steps of Mead Memorial Chapel, thus closing the third day of the gala week.

Sunday afternoon at five o'clock a vesper service will be held in the Mead Memorial Chapel, at which time President Moody will deliver the sermon. Intersorority Singing will be held on the steps of Pearsons Hall at seven o'clock as the final event of the 1930 Junior Week.

1930 KALEIDOSCOPE HAS DISMAL MISHAP

The 1930 Kaleidoscope will not be ready for distribution as originally planned, according to an announcement by the editor this morning. Everything looked bright for the annual's coming out on time until just recently, when it was found that some special work had to be done with a considerable number of the engravings to be used in the book. It is estimated that this will hold up the work at least a week.

Many innovations will be introduced by the 1930 annual. Among them are included three color art work on the insert pages, a unique art theme and an attractive cover. The whole will be worked into a delightful color combination never before used in a Kaleidoscope.

MIDDLEBURY HONORS PROF. CHAS. F. ABBOTT

Speakers Pay Tribute At Friday Chapel Service.

The entire personnel of the college paused for an hour Friday morning to pay tribute to the memory of the late Charles F. Abbott. A memorial service, instead of the regular chapel exercises, was observed in Mead Memorial Chapel. Following the opening prayer, President Moody said in part: "Many Middlebury students have had the privilege of attending classes under Professon Abbott. Those who have thus become associated with him and those who have learned of his inspiration from others undoubtedly little realize his true greatness and his fine services to the college. During his professorship at Middlebury and especially during his illness Professor Abbott received many letters praising the great work that he was doing at Middlebury."

By the courtesy of the relatives of the deceased, President Moody read two of these letters. The first was written by a Middlebury graduate of the class of 1920 who is at present a lawyer. The writer was prompted to write the letter by a deep appreciation of the advice and inspiration which he had received from Professor Abbott while at Middlebury. This is evidence of the influence which a great teacher can have over his students, and a tribute to any teacher. President Hopkins of Dartmouth was the author of the second letter. The letter commended the fine work that Professor Abbott was doing at Middlebury and also the services which he had rendered Dartmouth, the college from which he was graduated in 1891.

Professor Everett Skillings spoke of the sincerity of character and the appreciation of and devotion to other people which were characteristic of Mr. Abbott. The speaker described the circumstances of Professor Abbott's death —a time when all the beauty of nature shone forth in farewell to one who loved the mountains, the sunshine and the birds so well.

Professor Bryant impressed those present with the insignificance of human life and our tiny world which is only a speck of dust in the universe. He described Professor Abbott as a man with whom one did not easily get acquainted because he devoted nearly all of his time and energy to his students and college, but a man of inestimable sincerity as a friend, neighbor and associate. The beauty of his enduring love for his fellowmen was especially mentioned, with the conviction that comes from intimately knowing a man for more than fifteen years.

Before prayer by Dr. Harrington, Ellsworth Lawrence '29, spoke in behalf of the student body of the privilege and inspiration gained from association with Professor Abbott who was a truly great man and teacher. Mr. Lawrence spoke of the great experience from which Professor Abbott taught, and of the unselfish devotion which he gave to his students.

Professor Cady to Teach In Colorado Summer School

Professor Frank W. Cady of the English Deprtment plans to spend the coming summer at the University of Colorado, which is located at Boulder, Colorado. In the summer session of that institution he will teach two courses, one in Shakespeare and one in Eighteenth Century English Literature. Professor Cady and his family will make the trip by auto and plan to leave Middlebury soon after Memorial Day in order to arrive at Boulder in time for the beginning of the University summer school which opens June 17.

ORGANIZATIONS GIVE CONCERT AT CHAPEL

College Choir and Orchestra Present Joint Program.

The college Orchestra and Choir presented a joint concert Friday evening in Mead Memorial Chapel. The work of both organizations merited serious consideration and evidenced faithful and excellent training. Considering the obstacles which had to be overcome, both as concerns the available material and the difficulty of securing adequate time for practice, both Professor Hathaway and Mr. Larsen are to be congratulated on the results which they achieved.

The orchestra played with precision and vigor. While there was little flexibility or grace of interpretation, the tone was full and resonant—a certain compensation for the lack of refinement of feeling. It would seem that the organization played most musically the simpler numbers. Mascagni and Bellini are beyond their powers as yet.

The choir sang best during the first half of their program. The last choruses lacked force of rythm and volume of tone, but in the earlier numbers, the singers showed considerable ability in securing variety of tone color and shading. They sang with genuine feeling and effect. The soloists, Miss Mildred Ross '29, Mr. Burton Marsh '30 and Mr. W. E. Davis '29 managed their parts well.

Harvard-Middlebury Men Attend Booth's Retreat

Thirteen members of the men's college and two from Harvard were present at the Retreat of Bishop Booth's in the Episcopal Institute at Burlington May 3 to 5. The purpose of the meeting was to bring closer the religious significance of life to those students interested. The capacity of the Institute was taxed by the number present, and its success leads to belief that the movements towards stronger religious feeling among college students is capable of being materially developed.

The program of the three day Retreat was given over to serious discussion of religious problems. Bishop Booth explained the aims of modern Christian thought, and its desire to acheive identity with ideals. Through the media of quiet discussion, prayer and meditation this high purpose may be secured. The results upon human character are extremely beneficial, as proved by past experience. These methods were carried out over the three day period.

The representatives from Harvard were: F. Stanley Glynn of Hancock, Michigan, and R. R. Seeber, Jr., of Medford, Mass. Those from Middlebury included: R. O. Knowlton '30, R. M. Straus '30, R. H. Amerman '31, S. L. Abbott '31, E. C. Bray '31, R. G. Kelley '31, C. R. Lewis '31, D. G. Brown '31, H. S. Sniffen '31, A. C. Utton '31, H. C. Monroe '32 and R. I. Rayner '32. The party also included the Rev. Edric A. Weld of the Episcopal Church of Middlebury.

WOMEN DEBATERS LOSE TO VERMONT

Upstaters Take Negative of Jury Question and Win Decisively.

The Women's Debating Team was defeated by the Vermont team at a debate held in the Old Mill at Burlington, Tuesday, April 30. The decision of the judges was unanimous. Middlebury took the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the American jury system should be abolished," and the team included Helen Perry '30, Mary Henseler '31, and Ellen Kellogg '31. Elizabeth McDermott '29, manager, and Jilda Pacheco '30, alternate, were also present. The Vermont debaters were Doberta Powers, Frances Howley and Janice Goodrich.

Miss Perry, as first speaker, discussed the jury system from the viewpoint of its social evils, pointing out the fact that the jury has outlived its usefulness and is a menace to society.

Miss Powers of Vermont then argued that the country is better off under the present system. According to her, it has worked well and the results of its abolishing would not be worth the price.

Miss Henseler, the second speaker for the affirmative, pointed out the economic evils of the present jury system, stressing the fact that the work of administering justice should not be done at the expense of efficiency, and that only trained men could interpret the law rightly and efficiently.

Miss Howley stated that our jury system was sound and efficient, and that it had rendered justice.

Miss Kellogg, the last speaker for the affirmative, presented the judge system as a remedy for the evils inherent in the contemporary jury.

Miss Goodrich then refuted the arguments advanced by the affirmative and reviewed the negative points. She granted that the system could be made better, but was sure that the evils could easily be eradicated under the present system.

TWO WOMEN RECEIVE "M" SWEATER AWARD

W. A. A. sweater awards were presented to Eloise Comtois '29 and to Ruth Maltby '30 by Myrtle Batchelder '30, president of the Women's Athletic Association. Miss Comtois has played interclass basketball, volley ball and baseball. She is a member of the French Club and of Delta Delta Delta.

Miss Maltby is head of hockey for 1929, member of the All-Midd hockey team for the past two years, and of several class teams. She is a member of the French Club and of Pyramid Club.

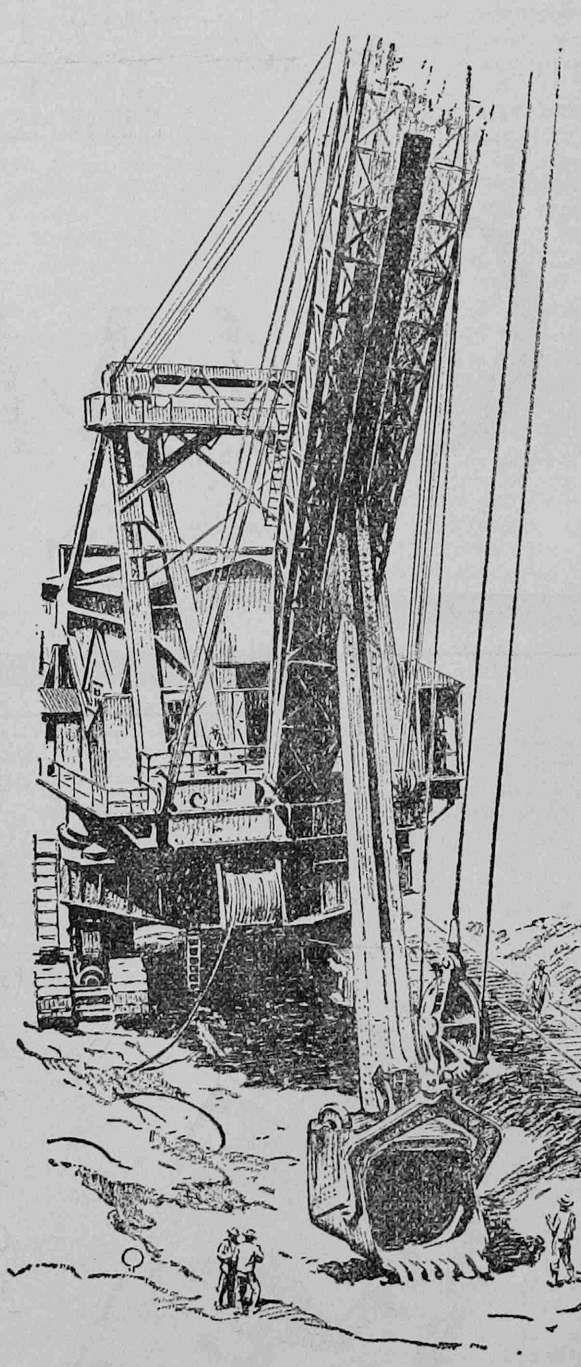
ELECTRICITY—
the modern prospector



A STOUT heart; a burro laden with pick, shovel, and the bare necessities of life; and the prospector was ready for the gold rush—Sutter's Mill, the Pike's Peak country, Cripple Creek, Klondyke. A scattered trail of half-worked claims marked his sacrifices.

To-day mining is a business, with electricity replacing wasteful brawn in mine and mill.

The deep mine, with electric lights, hoists, and locomotives; the surface mine with huge electric shovels scooping up tons of ore in a single bite; the concentrating mill with its batteries of electrically driven machines; the steel mill with its constant electric heat—here are but a few of electricity's contributions to the mineral industries.

So in every industry, electricity increases production and cuts costs. It is the modern prospector, leading the way into wider fields and tapping undeveloped resources—that we may enjoy a finer civilization and a richer, fuller life.

You will find this monogram on powerful motors that drive heavy mining machinery and on tiny motors that drive sewing machines. Both in industry and in the home it is the mark of an organization that is dedicated to electrical progress.

C. A. HAZEN WINS MERRILL CONTEST

Discusses Altruism as the Spirit of Cooperation and Sacrifice.

Clarence A. Hazen, speaking upon the subject, "Altruism—The Spirit of Cooperation and Self Sacrifice" won the Merrill Prize Speaking contest held in Mead Chapel Friday evening. President Paul D. Moody presided over the meeting. The amount of the first prize award was $50. Second prize of $35 was awarded to R. H. Amerman, speaking upon "Hamilton and the Constitution". Third prize of $25 was won by Robert Spencer, who spoke upon the subject, "Is College Worthwhile?" Fourth prize of $20 went to Lloyd Mann for his speech, "War with Great Britain".

Mr. Hazen pointed out that altruism is no panacea for all the ills of the world, but nevertheless it is a large and basic part of our present day civilization. He called attention to the fact that altruism is an integral part of our nation and our life, that it is socially indispensable, and that it is the ally of freedom and self fulfillment. In society we find altruism everywhere and through it men are bound together by ties that no one could break and live. In short altruism is the hope of the social order.

Mr. Amerman discussed the importance of the work of Alexander Hamilton in connection with the United States Constitution. Early union was abhorrent to the majority of the people, for they were reluctant to relinquish the freedom, won with such difficulty from England, to any central government, even though of their own creation. Hamilton was always the great fighter for union, and he stood firm for his belief. In United States history he is alone and supreme as a defender of the Constitution. Finally largely through his efforts all the states but New York were brought in line for union, and then it was Hamilton's courage and ability that eventually won over the skeptical New York legislators.

Mr. Spencer, in discussing the value of a college education, pointed out that many college graduates are among those challenging the real worth of college training, and today many authorities are maintaining that the college man is actually hindered in his earning power. Also, too many students are now going to college with the idea of getting into a few favored, "white collar jobs", and the product of the colleges will soon far exceed the number of these available positions. Therefore the question for each student to decide is whether or not his college years are merely a sacrifice upon the altar of waste.

Mr. Mann, in discussing the possibility of war with Great Britain, called attention to the work of Secretary Kellogg, and said that his achievements have made conditions such that war with our friends across the sea need not and should not be. He also pointed out that to keep the spirit of arms reduction agreements, America has whittled down her navy to a mere vestige of its former size, and held up her cruiser bill nine months for the Kellogg Pact. And even with the new cruiser bill in effect it will only replace obsolete ships, and will leave the United States with only 296,000 tons to England's 400,000 tons.

Max Merrill Miller, discussed the subject of "Standardized Education in American Colleges". He pointed out that there are certain types of individuals to whom college is a distinct detriment. The reason for this lamentable condition is that present day colleges are too standarized, and they value mass production too highly. He also called attention to the fact that the average student is disappointed with college, for it is not so difficult as is often believed, and the standards of the institutions are being lowered in order that the poorer student may "get by." The result is that for the student of ability, college is little more than a four years' vacation.

The judges for the contest were Professor Frank W. Cady, Professor Harry G. Owen, and Mr. V. Spencer Goodreds.

KAPPA DELTA RHO TO AWARD LOVING CUP

Kappa Delta Rho has again tendered a loving cup to the college officials which is to be awarded and to be the permanent possession of the member of the Senior Class chosen as outstanding in scholarship and extra-curricular activities. Last year Kappa Delta Rho established the trophy award as an annual institution and Albert Leahy was selected as the recipient.

The foundation upon which the award is to be made is on extra-curricular activities, both athletic and non-athletic, scholarship, general character and loyalty to and support of the ideals of Middlebury College. A provision is also made that the cup is to be awarded during Junior Week.

It has been specified by the donors that the selection committee shall consist of the president of the college, the dean of men, the director of athletics, a representative chosen by the faculty and three representatives of the student body appointed by the president of the Undergraduate Association, the last three men to have one vote as a group in making the award. The trophy is to be awarded to a member of the men's college.

WILEY AND NEWCOMB ATTEND CONFERENCE

Dean and Student Delegate Return from Boston Meeting.

Edgar J. Wiley, Director of Admissions and Personnel, and Arthur E. Newcomb '30, were the Middlebury representatives at the sixth Personnel Conference of the Department of Education and Vocation of the University Club, Boston, held Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26.

At the morning session Thursday, the topics were "Sales-What Price Success?" and "Scaling the Heights of Finance". The speakers were Viggo E. Bird of the Connecticut Power Company, G. D. Churbuck of the W. T. Grant Company and F. W. Buxton of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. N. E. Peterson of the First National Bank, Boston, spoke at the luncheon on "Industrial New England Dissected". Among the speakers of the afternoon and ensuing sessions was Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan University ,who spoke on "Business and the College".

The morning period on Friday was in charge of the twenty three college juniors attending, each one representing a New England college. William E. Arnstein of Yale presided, and a forum was held on the topic "An Undergraduate's View of the Purpose and Value of College Training." The old controversy over the relative merits of liberal and technical education was revived by many of the undergraduates. The afternoon session was devoted to the topics of "Engineering" and "Governmental Service". Among the speakers were D. S. Beyer, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, Boston, and H. A. Sweetser of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Former Middlebury Mentor Impresses Bates Athletes

Dave Morey, former Middlebury varsity football and baseball mentor, and coach of the team that tied Harvard, seems to have made a fine impression at Bates College, Maine, where he will next fall assume the duties of head coach of football and director of athletics. In a recent issue of the Bates undergraduate newspaper, the "Student", there is a feature story describing Morey as an "impressive sort of a person, aggressive, confident, and a natural born leader". The story continues, "He seems to be the type of a man who will run things without giving offense, and who can impart his own enthusiasm to his players .He expects to send the Garnet onto the field next fall with the idea in the mind of every player that eleven mere men are on the opposing side, and that the Bobcat is inferior to none. Indeed he even thrills at the prospect of meeting Harvard, the deadly opponent of his Alma Mater.

"Despite the scarcity of material", the article says, "optimism radiates from his face whenever Garnet chances are mentioned, and something in his inspiring countenance seems to say that he will certainly have something in store for opposing colleges next fall."

For the benefit of Middlebury students who do not remember Coach Morey it may be said that he was one of the most successful Middlebury coaches of recent years. In 1925 he was forced to leave here because of the failing health of Mrs. Morey, and he took a position in the South. He has written sports for the Boston Transcript, and during the past year has been at New York University where he has been taking post-graduate work in athletic coaching, and doing some teaching and coaching. This spring he is coaching the baseball team of Boston University.

Dave Morey is a graduate of Dartmouth in the class of 1911, and was an All-American end on the football team of that institution.

PANTHER TRACKMEN LOSE FIRST MEET OF YEAR TO R. P. I.

Middlebury Takes Eight Of Fifteen First Places.

WINNERS OVERCOME BLUE'S EARLY LEAD

Captain Smith, Dubois And Guarnaccia Star.

Although Middlebury took eight of a possible fifteen first places, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute won the opening track meet of both teams by a score of 74-61 at Troy last Saturday. Captain "Gil" Smith ran true to form in winning both the 100 and 220 yard dashes while Guarnaccia and Dubois featured in the weights. Guarnaccia won the discus throw and finished second in the shot-put, only a fraction of an inch behind Ferguson of R. P. I., who won with a throw of 41 feet 8 inches. Dubois sprang a surprise to win his event by throwing the hammer 122.36 feet.

Felix, Swiss Decathlon winner, formerly of Zurich Polytechnic, starred for Rensselaer winning the broad jump and finishing second in the high-jump and half-mile.

Middlebury made a clean sweep of the pole vault when Williams and Paul tied for first at 10 feet 6 inches and Tomlinson finished second, but R. P. I. did the same in the running broad jump with Webber, Conlon and Alven finishing in the order named. Johnson, of Middlebury, leaped far enough to have easily placed but insisted upon fouling all of his three attempts so his efforts went for naught.

Goltry won the 440 yard run for Middlebury with Warren of R. P. I. taking second from Burrows of Middlebury who finished fast but not quite fast enough. Schmidt took first place in the javelin throw and a second to Dubois in the hammer throw while Bagley leaped to victory in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 9 inches.

Middlebury's inability to place men in the second and third positions lost the meet, but the fact that they were able to take eight of fifteen first places will mean a lot in the Green Mountain Conference Championship Meet which will be held May 25. If they are able to repeat this performance in the State meet a championship should be assured inasmuch as three teams will be competing for the runner-up positions. Friday's meet with St. Lawrence should give the home team adherents a better viewpoint on the track team for the visitors have a reputation of turning out a fast, well balanced aggregation. The St. Lawrence meet is the only home-meet of the year.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Won by Smith (M); second, Bishop (R); third, Bibby (M). Time—10.4s.

220 yard dash—Won by Smith (M); second, Warren (R); third Bishop (R). Time—23.2s.

440 yard run—Won by Goltry (M); second, Warren (R); third, Burrows (M) Time—54.4s.

880 yard run—Won by Bliss (R); second Weber (R); third, Farnham (M). Time—2m. .8.7s.

One mile run—Won by Smith (R); second, Clark (R); third, Butler (M). Time—4m. 50.8s.

Two mile run—Won by Giannetti (R) second, Dalton (M); third, Lewis (R). Time—10m. 24s.

120 yard high hurdles—Won by Hodgson (R); second, Weinman (R); third, Duffany (M). Time—17.7s.

220 yard low hurdles—Won by Titler (R); second, Gould (R); third, Duffany (M). Time—28.9s.

High jump—Won by Bagley (M); second, Weber (R); third, Palmer (R) and Rulison (R) tied. Height—5 feet 9 inches.

SOPH WOMEN DEFEAT FROSH IN BASEBALL

The first of the series of interclass baseball in the Women's Pphysical Education Department was played Monday afternoon, April 30, in the McCullough gymnasium. The Sophomores defeated the Freshmen 17 to 6.

Both teams show evidence of good material which, with a little development, will result in well-rounded teams. The batting was exceptionally good, but many errors were committed which tended to make a slow game. Dundas and Cole each made three runs for the Sophomores, and Emily Smith and Landis made two each for the Freshmen.

The line-up:

TENNIS TEAM WILL OPPOSE VERMONT ON LOCAL COURTS

Return Match Scheduled at Burlington Courts Monday.

The tennis team will meet Vermont on the local courts tomorrow afternoon. The match is scheduled to begin at two o'cock so as not to interfere with the baseball game which comes later in the day. With good weather from now until game time the courts should be in playable condition, although the undesirable weather has kept them soggy and wet.

Vermont comes here boasting a veteran team that defeated our players in the matches of last year. The state tennis championship depends on the outcome of this match so the players are doing their best to work into form. They have been hampered tremendously by the condition of the courts, causing most of their practice to be done in the very inadequate gymnasium.

Because of the inability to play any trials the team that will meet Vermont is not as yet decided upon, but will consist of probably six of the following players, Capt. Woodbury '29, D. Daland '30, Bemiss '29, Sloper '32, Sun '30, Morize '32, Viehman '32, P. Daland '31, Chase '32, and Horr, '32.

A return match will be played at Burlington next Monday afternoon, and will complete the tennis matches between Middlebury and Vermont for the season.

JUNIORS LEAD IN CLASS BASEBALL

The Juniors won from the Sophomores 22-29 in the second game of the interclass baseball games last Wednesday afternoon at the gymnasium. In the game Friday, the Juniors again won 13-11, from the Seniors. The Seniors won from the Freshmen 12-24 in the game played Monday afternoon.

The class standing thus far in the four games played is as follows: Freshmen won 0 lost 2, Sophomores won 1 lost 1, Juniors won 2 lost 0, Seniors won 1 lost 1.

ONE RUN IN FIRST WINS FOR PANTHER IN HOME OPENING

Light Hitting Features One to Nothing Win From Upsala.

In the first home game of the season at Porter Field Saturday, the Blue and White managed to nose a 1-0 win from Upsala by a first inning tally. The home team showed a good game in the field but was very weak at the plate, only managing to total four hits. The New Jersey boys showed the same deficiency by only making three.

Upsala had first raps but took to the field quickly with Dahlquist left on first after the first hit of the game. Franzoni then stepped to the plate and hit to Dahlquist who threw him out at first. Hasseltine flied out to Hership. Nelson reached first by hitting a hot one off second. Anderson reached first by hitting to left field where, on Z. Johnson's error, Nelson managed to slide home for the only tally of the game. Humeston came to the plate but on a low pitch bouncing off the rubber Anderson was caught sliding in, ending the first inning with Middlebury in the lead 1-0.

The remainder of the game was a pitching duel between R. Johnson and Cook with the former fanning three whlie Cook struck out ten. Middlebury had a chance to score again in the second, fourth, and sixth innings but failed to come through with the goods.

In the second inning, Humeston hit a single, was advanced to second on Willis' sacrifice but was unable to move as Sorensen fanned and Kelley hit to R. Johnson and was thrown out at first. In the fourth with two down, Humeston made first on Miller's error, was advanced to second while Willis made first on Dahlquist's error, but with two on, Sorensen hit to R. Johnson and was thrown out at first. The last chance came in the sixth when Nelson reached first with one down after being hit by R. Johnson. He was advanced to second while Anderson reached first on Backman's error, but Nelson was caught going to third and Anderson was left on third when Humeston hit to Sjostrom and was thrown out at first.

The visitors only managed to reach first sack four times and never got beyond it. Three men reached first on scratches while Cook let Gullans walk in the fifth. On the whole, the boys did a good job in the field but if they expect to take over the strong Vermont nine Thursday they have certainly got to do a lot better job at the plate.

Our Dirty Joke

"Why the black crepe on the door? Is your roommate dead?"

"That's no crepe, that's the roommate's towel."

Sports On and Off the Campus

The Catamounts come to Middlebury with an entirely new team, but contrary to all rumors, the Green and Gold is not weak. It is true that the pitching staff is not up to the standard of past U. V. M. teams, but the rest of the outfit is capable of giving any team a battle as was shown by the close contest with New York U.

Many old friends will make their appearance once more when the Norwich baseball nine comes to town. Kane, Coane, Hourin, Tansey, O'Donnell and Waining are all veterans of past seasons and are well known in Middlebury. These men are also football stars for the "Horsemen." The Cadets turn out some versatile athletes.

Norwich thumped Clarkson right merrily, making 13 hits and scoring seven runs. Waining held the New Yorkers to three hits, two of which were of the scratch variety and retired 13 of the lads from Potsdam via the strikeout route. This Waining lad is a "right smart twirler" as they say in New Pembroke, Me.

Middlebury's weakness in the broad jump was again noticeable in the track meet with R. P. I. If the Blue and White could produce men capable of winning points in this event, meets like the one last Saturday could be turned into victories instead of being chalked up as defeats.

The track meet with R. P. I showed that the loss of Donald and Thayer ruined the Panther's half mile points. These two men won points in the "half" in every meet last year and their loss is felt keenly. Donald was graduated last June and Thayer has been forced to abandon track because of an operation for appendicitis.

Cook twirled a brilliant game against Upsala. "Red" was the most dependable hurler on last year's team and will be the mainstay of the staff this season. If the breaks had come his way, "Red" would have turned in two victories over the Cadets last year. The first game was lost when the breaks went the other way and the second game, which went to a 1 to 1 tie only to be halted by rain, would have been I to 0 only for an error in the infield. Those games were heart-breakers, but "Cookie" intends to make up for them this year.

Franzoni and Kelley turned in some neat plays around second base during the Uusala fray. The prize fielding play of the day however, goes to Backman, the Upsala fray. The prize fielding play catch of Hasseltine's seeming hit. Backman came in fast and diving just foremost caught "Hassie's" looping drive just before it struck the ground. The local fans gave him a good hand.

It is quite noticeable that Amherst, one of the smaller colleges of New England, has one of the leading teams in the race for the eastern championship. The Purple nine has yet to taste defeat and has won five games, including Harvard and Princeton, the conqueror of Holy Cross, among its victims.

The playing of the baseball team in the first two games this year can truly earn them the title of "hitless wonders". If the boys cannot hit Vermont and Norwich pitching any better than they have swatted the twirling of St. Lawrence and Upsala pitchers, things will not look so bright after the game as before.

Northwestern University feared recently that it would be required to extend the spring vacation or else hold classes in jail. Sixty-seven students were arrested for traffic offenses in one morning, and the arrests were only stopped because the jails were all filled up.

At the University of Utah, the students are dodging the regulation which forbids smoking on the campus. They hold that stilts will lift them twelve inches from the ground, thereby manipulating the best way they can for a smoke.

Edward W. Markowski President of Delta Tau

Edward W. Markowski of Meriden, Conn., was recently elected President of Delta Tau, honorary Sophomore Society. Mr. Markowski has been active in extra-curricula activities for the past year, being on the Freshman Football team, Interfraternity Basketball team, and the Baseball Squad. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Dubois Chosen Head Of Kappa Phi Kappa

Millard G. Dubois '30, of Kingston, N. Y., was recently elected president of Kappa Phi Kappa, honorary national educational fraternity, at a meeting of the members held Monday in Old Chapel. Carl Howard '30 was chosen vice-president, and Wallace Green '30, secretary. Professor Charles A. Adams was named treasurer, and Professor Frank E. Howard, faculty advisor.

RUTH BRYANT SPEAKS ON PUBLISHING WORK

Field is Open to Those Ready to Start in Low Positions.

Ruth M. Bryant '18, daughter of Professor E. C. Bryant, who has been with the Editorial Department of the Macmillian Publishing Co. in New York City since 1922, addressed members of the Women's College interested in publishing house work, Friday afternoon in Pearson's Social Hall.

Miss Bryant advised those counting on entering this field to obtain some business training first. Unlike many others, this industry is not continually renewing its personnel, for those who are fortunate enough to be retained are usually interested in staying. The few openings, even in stenography or book-keeping, may offer advancement to an enterprising individual.

Miss Bryant also traced the process of book-making, with its interesting connections in salesmanship and advertising. In the case of a text-book, when the publishing company sees an unsatisfied need for a book on a certain phase of a subject, it may request some professor or authority to write one. Manuscripts must of course be read, but regular manuscript readers—who have everything from fiction to philosophy referred to them,—find an uninteresting task ill-paid. Occasionally a text-book manuscript may be referred to a professor in that line. The printer's galleys are proof -read several times, in page form and after the copper plates have been made. When a book, such as a text, promises to see much wear, bindings are an important part of the finished product, pages being sewed and taped together in the back. Salesmen's dummies are made with covers frontispieces and several pages of text.

The advertising department must see to the advance pamphlets on coming releases and catalogues on publications, and must also keep account of the newspapers interested in previews and advertising material on the newest books, and keep them supplied.

Power of Leadership Subject at Vespers

Rev. George L. Cady of New York City spoke at Vespers Sunday, May 5, on Individualism, and the Power of Personality and Leadership.

He said in part: As King Arthur drew men around him in a high endeavor to make live the world, as did Socrates, so did Jesus. He was the supreme educator, for these twelve apostles, although rude men, caught not only his ideas but his ideals, and his personality. So it is that the walls of a university do not make it a seat of learning; it is the great minds there. A teacher should have character to impart, for character is not bought but caught.

It is not more machinery or laws that America needs today, but character and insight. America is endowed with power but she is in a dangerous position if no moral genius arises. We are highly organized; we have the chain store and the Labor Union, but we forget the power of the individaul and his genius. An organization is worth only as much as its leader. After all what campaign did an army ever plan or what great portrait did an art club ever paint? There has never been evolution or revolution without a leader or a genius.

You need to assert your personality. It is egotism perhaps, but if you do not believe in yourself, no one else will. There have been Puritans in all ages, and it is he who is the individual, who is bold and rises above environment. Someone has said that after all, tolerance is only invertebrate indifference. It is the men who asserted themselves who are remembered, and it is something to have scratched your name on the pages of history.

And so the apostles, inspired by the genius of Christ, carried his name on to the world. You should believe in your generation and pass on your ideals with faith and high hope. Take a course under the instruction of Jesus, and help to bring in the day when the nations shall move towards God's will on earth.

STATE CONTESTS FEATURE WEEK

Cats thus far this season.

Last year's smooth working infield will be missing from Thursday's game, but the present combination is not as weak as has been supposed. The outfield is strong and is made up of fairly good stickmen. The weakness of the Vermonters is the pitching staff. Moriarty and Shoppe were among the graduating list and no new men have been found capable of taking their places.

If Middlebury can hold down the upstaters, the first victory over a Vermont nine in quite some time should result. The Panther should be able to hit the opposing twirlers without much difficulty and so the game hinges upon who can get the hits and make them count.

Norwich Here Saturday

Another hard hitting Norwich baseball team will come to Middlebury Saturday in an attempt to add to the already growing string of Cadet victories. Thus far, the Norwich team has won three games out of four, losing only to the impressive Providence nine.

Last Friday, the Cadets showed unusual strength in overwhelming Clarkson Tech by a 7 to 1 count. Waining, the pitching star of the Norwich aggregation, fanned 13 men and allowed only three hits. It is probable that Waining will be the moundsman to face the Blue and White in the opening Junior Week Contest. A veteran from last year's team, Waining has been showing great form and the Panther will need more batting strength than has been shown so far to batter him into submission.

The Norwich team has almost the same lineup as last year. With such heavy hitters as Kane, Canon, Coane, Hourin and O'Donnell leading the batting list, the Cadets will offer plenty of opposition. These five men made 11 of the 13 hits against Clarkson.

On the showing of the three state contenders thus far this season, Norwich may be termed a slight favorite for the championship. St. Michael's has been forced to cancel their early games due to an epidemic of sickness. The all around strength of the Cadets makes them stand out as the team Middlebury will have to beat in order to win the title.

Middlebury has presented a smooth working defensive outfit in the two games played thus far this season, but the weakness at the bat, so noticeable in past years, is again prevalent. Coach Hessler is working hard in an attempt to get his team into a hitting mood and should he succeed, the other state championship contenders will find their hands full. Defensively, the Blue and White is probably the strongest of the Vermont schools. Offensively, there is a big question mark. The answer will be found in the games with Norwich and Vermont. W.S.Y.
